Article 1. Characteristics of the GRAND PRIX competition

1. The competition for the best exhibit/technology (hereinafter referred to as the exhibit) GRAND PRIX is announced by ABF, a.s., the organizer of trade fairs. The exhibits will be exhibited at the FOR KIDS trade fair at PVA EXPO PRAGUE.
2. The GRAND PRIX award may be awarded to exhibits that bring progress in their field or focus.

Article 2. Registration for the GRAND PRIX competition

1. The applicant shall submit an application with the technical characteristics of the exhibit with the decisive parameters and the following documentation no later than 18 September, 2026:
 - a) valid declaration of conformity according to applicable legislation or documents on the quality and suitability of the exhibit, or the materials used, evaluation in testing laboratories, certificates
 - b) high-quality photographs in electronic form in jpg, at least 1 pc
 - c) a brochure in electronic form in PDF or printed form
2. By sending the image/photograph, the applicant confirms that the publication will not unduly affect copyright or other rights or legitimate interests of third parties. The applicant grants ABF, a.s., Company ID 63080575 a non-exclusive license to use the image/photograph for all methods of their use, in an unlimited scope and with the right to grant a sublicense. The license is granted for the territory of the Czech Republic, for the duration of the property copyright and without quantitative restrictions. When using an image/photograph, ABF, a.s. is entitled to use it in whole or in part, not only in its original form, but also in modified form, by combining it with other copyrighted works, including text, images, photographs, video recordings or sound. In the event that the use of the image/photograph infringes any rights of third parties, the Applicant undertakes to compensate third parties for any claims arising from such infringement.
3. A sales or dealer company that is an exhibitor may also enter a product into the competition on behalf of the manufacturer, with its consent.
4. In the event of failure to submit valid documentation, the product cannot be evaluated by the expert jury and therefore cannot be nominated for the GRAND PRIX.
5. The Applicant is entitled to enter a maximum of 2 exhibits into the competition.

Article 3. Presentation of registered exhibits

1. Registered exhibits will be presented on the websites of individual fairs.
2. Documents for registered exhibits will be used for PR purposes of the fairs and will be handed over to journalists registered in the press center of the fairs.
3. Registered exhibits must be exhibited at the fairs in the exhibitors' stands and will be marked with signs supplied by the competition organizer. Award-winning exhibits will be marked the day after the announcement of the competition results.
4. The promoter guarantees the publication of the competition results in the form of a press release, on the trade fair websites and as a part of PR after the trade fairs.

Article 4. Evaluation criteria

1. The evaluation criteria are technical solutions, progressive technologies, unconventional ideas, exceptional quality at an affordable price, ecological aspects, chemical and biological harmlessness, energy efficiency and general properties characterizing a friendly relationship with the environment.
2. As a part of the GRAND PRIX competition, the jury will award the GRAND PRIX award and two honorary mentions without specifying the order.
3. The GRAND PRIX award of the FOR KIDS trade fair may be awarded to an entered exhibit only once.

Article 5. Evaluation Jury

1. The jury is composed of experts in the relevant fields. The members of the jury are independent persons who are not employed by the fair organizing company. The evaluation jury works under the leadership of the chairman. The competition secretary is employed by the fair organizing company.
2. The jury assesses the parameters of the product/technology on the basis of timely delivered documentation (certificates, certificates, catalogue sheets, brochures, industry documentation, price lists, etc.). The jury assesses the exhibits on the basis of the documentation supplied in electronic form; the organizer is responsible for processing the documentation supplied for the jury. During the assessment, the jury has the right to request additional information about the evaluated exhibit from the exhibitor and from other sources. It determines the method of assessment and the importance of individual available information about the registered exhibit. The jury is not obliged to assess the real appearance of the exhibit directly at the fairs or to assess the exhibit directly at the stand.

Article 6. Announcement of the competition results

1. The official announcement of the competition results and the presentation of the GRAND PRIX awards and honorary mentions will take place during the fair.

Article 7. Final provisions

1. The promoter reserves the right to respond to technical or organizational circumstances that may lead to changes in the dates or course of the competition. The promoter guarantees timely information to all entrants.
2. The contact person for the promoter is determined as
